

YANKEE Meeting and Fusion Set for Tonight.

Both political meetings are scheduled for the immediate future, not soon, as yet, for the Yankee-Blaustein coalition. Judge Frank J. Murphy, 52, a Smith candidate for President of the House of Commons, upon his campaign in the Bronx taught at a meeting in Astoria, Queens, last night, which will be addressed by Henry Branson, who was voting against sending the McAdoo-Pelego bill to the Senate. The Mayor, the Comptroller, and Commissioner of Education will speak tonight at meetings in Cooper Union and the Academy of Music, Brooklyn.

HIRING OF GUNMEN FOR PHILADELPHIA PUT UP TO VARES

Detective Testifies How Final Arrangements for Thugs Was Made at Fitz Herz.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—A criminal trial was given today in the hearing of Major Thomas H. Smith of the city and state charged with being implicated in political killing in the 1919 Ward two weeks ago. It was announced at the hearing of a policeman, George A. Eppley, and assault upon James A. Cagney, political leader, which nearly ended his life. It is charged that the crimes were committed by gunmen brought here from New York to the faction opposed to Cagney.

Samuel G. Maloney, head of the local office of a New York detective agency, put the responsibility for bringing the gunmen here up to the Vares, congressman William R. and State Senator Edwin H., leaders of the Republican faction opposed to United States Senator Boise Penrose.

Maloney said that Isaac Deutsch, candidate against Cagney and a defendant in the present proceedings, came to his office ten days before Election and said he wanted eighteen "husky men" for work in the Fifth Ward on Primary Day. Maloney said he asked who was to pay the expenses, and Deutsch replied, "The little fellow," meaning, Maloney said, Senator Vares. Maloney said he turned Deutsch over to "Mike" Savan of his office, and they arranged to bring the men from New York. It was also arranged that the men should wear white ribbons as a distinguishing mark and not the usual badges.

Later Maloney said he went to Senator Vares' office to see about the money and met not Congressmen Vares and William E. Flynn, the latter also a defendant, and Vare's chief political lieutenant. Maloney said he inquired about the money and was told by the Congressman that Deutsch had ample funds and everything would be all right. When he was leaving, Finley told him not to worry about the expenses, as it was all right.

On the street, Maloney testified, he met Senator Vare, who told him to see Captain of Detectives Tate in the City Hall and arrange to have detectives sent into the Fifth Ward. Maloney said he saw Tate and the arrangements were made.

On the afternoon of the election Maloney said he met Finley in the Ritz-Carlton Hotel and inquired about money, saying he required $1,000 to pay the men. Finley, according to the indictment, said he didn't have but would see what he could do. Two days later he received an anonymous special delivery letter containing a thousand dollar bill.

"POOR LITTLE RICH BOY" PUT IN UNCLE'S CARE

During Tompkins Award Lawyer of William's Son in Law Gets a Long Legal Battle.

STATE TO THE PEOPLE: WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 1.—After some White Plains lawyers who were leading in the fight for the Tompkins estate assumed a new legal attitude toward the legal claims of the late Mrs. Tompkins, widow of New York Senator.

The law here is nearly identical with those under the control recently of David B. Lewis, who was appointed his guardian by Supreme Court Justice William A. Sawyer, who died less than a year ago, leaving behind him a son, legal battle between Lewis, Lee, the latter's mother, Mrs. Kenyon Lee, and William Mills, father of the boy, for the custody of William. Mr. Lee is the step-father of William, having married the mother of the boy after she had divorced Mr. Mills.

In his decision Justice Tompkins said William should be encouraged to visit Mrs. Lee and maintain friendly relations. The boy is now in Hackensack, N. J.

NEUTRALITY DECLARATION REPUDIATED BY IRIGOYEN

Argentine President Insists He Was Misquoted by Juvenile Committee.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—President Irigoyen "has absolutely repudiated the statement on international subjects published yesterday and falsely attributed to him by a group of young people."

This cablegram was received to-day by the Argentine Embassy from Buenos Aires. Irigoyen's statement, it is believed, is directed against members of the Juvenile Committee. Irigoyen was quoted as standing firm for neutrality.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 2.—Peru's seizure of German steamers at Callao and the expulsion of Count von Luxemburg from Buenos Ayres are again occupying public attention in Chile. It is believed in Government circles here that the presence of Count von Luxemburg in Chile or in any other South American country would affect the solidarity of the republics in the Western Hemisphere.

RETRIAL FOR ARRICHIELLO.

Man Condemned in Baff Case to Be Brought Back.

Giuseppe Arricchello, who has been in the death house at Sing Sing for eighteen months awaiting execution for his part in the killing of Barnett Batt, the West Washington Market poultry dealer, was granted a new trial to-day by Supreme Court Justice Tompkins. He will be brought to the Tombs to-morrow, in the opinion of those who have followed the Baff case. Arricchello stands an excellent chance of going free.

Arricchello, one of the two men first arrested in connection with the Baff case, has had his life spared several times in the last year and a half through the intervention of Gov. Whitman. At the time of his arrest, it is alleged, he made two confessions admitting his guilt; one to the police, the other to the District Attorney. Later he refused to confess to the two witnesses who testified against Joseph Cohen, recently condemned and sent to the death house for the Baff murder. Arricchello was not implicated in the murder.

15 TO 50-CENT CUT IN COAL PRICES EXPECTED HERE

Officials Say Fuel Administrator's Order Should Lower Cost of Anthracite Generally.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The Fuel Administrator's order limiting maximum coal prices should cut anthracite prices generally and lower bituminous prices in certain grades and areas, officials said today.

In New York City anthracite coal should drop 15 cents per ton, while coke 15 to 20 cents in the case of the best qualities, which are equivalent half of the domestic market, officials declared.

Chicago should have a 15 cent reduction in anthracite, with bituminous only slightly. Chicago, except on certain grades, may bring abnormal prices.

Philadelphia's anthracite price, on broken coal, should drop 20 cents, coal 30 to 40 cents.

In New Jersey, small towns in Pennsylvania and New York, Maryland and Delaware prices will be off very little.
